

Here's a testimonial I received from a participant in my recent seminar on fishing with Corkies. I greatly appreciate feedback on these events, particularly when the content is so carefully worded and thoughtfully stated. Thanks, Anton K. of Austin, for the kind words! Hope you catch a bunch of big trout on Corkies this year and for all those to follow.

Kevin,

You are a class act...what I heard from you in class was already at least 10 times more than what I would have taken away and been happy with!

I am a very studious individual by nature, and I've never been attracted to the newest/ flashiest stuff. Sound fundamentals is where it's always been for me, in life in general and fishing by extension. Bruce Lee once said he's not afraid of the guy who knows 10,000 kicks, but of the guy who knows 1 kick and has practiced it 10,000 times... Your teaching approach reminds me a lot of the second, which is why I have enjoyed your materials so much.

The seminar gave me a very solid exposure to what I want to do to continue improving, and I am very grateful to you.

Thank you again for everything, and I hope to meet up with you again.

Be well my friend,

Anton K.
