

Got some exciting news yesterday. Angler Brett McDonald won the Chupacabra Outdoor's CPR (catch/photo/release) contest! The two pics pasted below were entered. Brett caught his 7.25 pound, 28 inch fish on March 8th of this year. As the winner of the contest, his pics will be shown in the Nov/Dec issue of Tide Magazine, and he will be given a free replica mount of his trout, made for him by Circle S Taxidermy. To learn more about the contest, see the Chupacabra Outdoor's webpage at www.thechupacabraoutdoors.com. Thanks David Couch for running the contest and picking Brett as the winner! And thanks Brett for catching and releasing such a photogenic fish.
