

I have made arrangements to hold Monster Maps and More seminars on North Padre Island on May 18 and June 1. The seminars will run from 8 am to noon. Each participant in the seminar receives a copy of the book Monster Maps and More, which is approximately 100 pages, including full-color graphics and written chapters documenting where and when I and my customers have caught trophy trout in the ULM and Baffin Bay.

I used Google Earth images overlaid with GPS data, text and pictures to document the precise locations where the catches were made, and use the content of the written chapters to describe memorable outings made in the depicted places, and to explain my favorite times and conditions for fishing the areas.

In the seminar, I basically go over the book, adding detail orally, and providing advice on how best to use the book, which includes a spreadsheet of the GPS coordinates and a list of lures used to catch the documented fish.

I still have seats available for both dates, and welcome all who are reading this blog to contact me with inquiries about the seminars. Cost is $500, which I will collect in the form of a $250 deposit prior to the event and a $250 balance on the day of the event.
