

Wound up posting record numbers for me during January. In 12 days on the water, we landed 28 trout measuring 25" and/or 5 pounds or more, with 17 of those meeting or exceeding the 27-inch mark, and 14 of them weighing at least 7 pounds. Best fish were Caleb McCumber's 32-inch 9.25 pounder and Beau Blackard's 9 pounder. At least 10 guys caught their personal best trout during this month-long run. Water quality is good throughout most of the area, and the catching is steady. I expect more phenomenal results as winter winds down and spring starts to blossom. Booked up for February, but still have plenty of days available in March, April and beyond.
